

Double-Duty Decor: Office Accessories That Help Employees Be More Productive

By: Kris Gleba

Your employees' workspaces should be true reflections of their personalities. Provide them with accessories that inspire their creativity. Office Depot® has the accessories they'll love, such as whiteboards that double as bulletin boards and chairs that do more than just sit there.

Help Them Take Hold of Their Office Supplies

Prepare your employees for noteworthy moments with a desktop accessory that keeps note-taking necessities within reach. Upgrade their pen cups to sleek all-in-one containers that store pens as well as small pads of paper, thumbtacks, paper clips and other smaller offices supplies. Suggest they lean a small mirror against the front of the penholder. The mirror's an asset to any worker whose back faces the entryway.

Keep Them Posted

Your employees can eliminate desktop clutter with a sticky note dispenser that doubles as functional with a side of personality. These sleek organizers hold sticky notes and adhesive flags, and come in varying styles that'll allow them to display pictures of their loved ones.

Write On, Wipe Off

Outfit your employees' workspaces with a variety of magnetic dry-erase white boards. These dry-erase boards come in a variety of sizes and colors, adding style to functionality. Or, add modern and universal appeal to your collaborative work space or conference room with a board made of scratch-resistant glass. These frameless boards are built to blend into any work environment, and due to its magnetic surface, can double as a company notice board.

Have Them Sit Up and Take Notice

Many jobs require employees to sit for long periods of time. But now, they can put that sitting to good use with a ball stool. Put a little bounce in their day with this fit chair that provides posture support and helps improve concentration.
